Emerging From His Home, Gunman in Auto Slows Down, Shoots Him Dead and Then Puts on Speed and Escapes—Was American Ambassador's Guest at Dinner Last Night.

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, June 24.—Dr. Walter Rathenau, the German Minister of Foreign Affairs, was assassinated today. He was shot and instantly killed as he was leaving his residence in the Grunewald suburb for the Foreign Office in his automobile. His assassin escaped. Official announcement of his death was later made in the Reichstag. The murderer, who was driving in a motor car slowed up as he neared Dr. Rathenau and shot twice, then, putting on high speed, the assassin escaped. Dr. Rathenau was a guest at a dinner last night given by American Ambassador Houghton and this morning the embassy promptly hoisted its flag at half mast on account of the assassination.

News of the assassination caused pandemonium to break out among the various party groups in the Reichstag. In the commission on taxation which had just convened, two socialists jumped up shouting to Dr. Karl Helfferich, "You are the assassin!" Helfferich hastily left the committee room.

Senate Chamber Like Junk Shop

Watson, of Indiana, Piles Up Exhibits To Emphasize His Tariff Speech.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Only one of the 2,087 committee amendments to the tariff bill have been acted upon by the Senate in the more than two months that the measure has been under consideration. Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, stated today in the Senate. Four hundred and fifteen of these were approved without change, he said. Of the others the committee recommended reductions of rates in 84 instances and increases in 11, while the Senate lowered the rates in three and increased the rates in the same number.

Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, declared that one-third or one-half of the amendments acted upon were of no importance and caused no controversy, while Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, asserted that the changes made by the committee came after assaults by the Democrats on the original recommendations of Senator Watson.

Senator Watson reviewed progress on the bill at the outset of an address designed to show the low cost of production abroad as compared with that in the United States. His desk was piled high with exhibits from foreign countries, particularly Germany, the articles including an ornate clock, a rifle, aluminum saucers and toys.

Brandishing a sporting rifle of modern type above his head, the Indiana Senator remarked that the figures on its cost and selling price showed what was being done. The rifle cost 90 cents in Germany, the Senator said; adding it was valued at $1.80, including duty, at New York and sold later there at retail for $3.50.

Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, took issue with Senator Watson concerning the foreign cost declaring that the invoice must have shown a record in marks instead of cents, and that as a result the Senator's figures meant "nothing."

Senator Watson retorted that no invoice could get by customs authorities if it made out other than in United States coin.

An aluminum saucer was laid before the Senate next. Senator Watson said it cost 39 cents abroad, 40.3 cents laid down in New York and retailed at $1.24. He called attention to the spread between the foreign cost and the retail price, which he computed at 317 per cent, enough, he said, to satisfy most any dealer to the utmost.

Producing a German padlock cost in 25 cents and sold for $1, Senator Watson said. "Perhaps I ought to be put on some of our mouths." After exhibiting a German brass bird cage which cost $1.74 and brought for $11, Senator Watson presented an electric hair drier which cost $2.57 and sold for $17.50.

Presenting a bottle of German mineral water costing 3.7 cents and sold for 24 cents, Senator Watson said "there still is some use in this country for this product."

A red flannel top monkey, costing 31 cents and brought at $4 stirred the Senator's merriment still more. Senator Watson referred to William Jennings Bryan's criticism of the Danville plan of evolution of man from monkey.

Senator Watson also presented some toy building blocks costing 35 cents and bought for $4, and a string of amber beads from Germany which cost 76 cents and was bought at a New York department store for $19.50, or a profit of 1,544 per cent.

Advertisements of New York department stores urging the public to protest to their Senators and Representatives against the Senate rate on linen were read by Senator Watson. The advertisements said that the proposed tariff would cause them to increase prices on towels from $6 to $7.50 a dozen. Senator Watson said the duty increase would be only 71 cents and the affair, he said, dem-

Whisky Cases Are Heard In Court

The cases of W. P. Boggs, Jesse O'Dell and Harry Lewis, charged with violating the Mapp act, came up in the Mayor's court this morning. O'Dell was not present but sent word that he would submit to the charge. The warrant against Lewis was dismissed while the one against Boggs was held up until disposition of O'Dell's case. About three pints of whisky were found in Boggs' creamery at Five Forks several mornings ago with O'Dell and Lewis present, Boggs claims he let the men into his place to use the telephone but thought they had gone by the time officers came. L. N. Via and W. L. Phillips were fined $5 and costs each on a disturbance charge. The men were arrested late at night on complaint of a youth that they had attempted to stop him on the road. The young man was out driving with a party of young ladies when he claims the man attempted to stop him and created a disturbance.

Mrs. W. P. Boggs was fined $2.50 for operating an auto without a driver's permit. It was Mrs. Boggs who ran into a fire water hydrant at the corner of Main and Jefferson streets several days ago, breaking the plug off, allowing large quantities of water to flow down the street. It is understood that this damage was made good with the superintendent of public utilities.

James Swearingen paid the costs of a warrant charging him with creating a disturbance.

L. E. Brooks, colored, fined $11.50 for violating the traffic ordinance by driving past the "stop" paddle on Main street.

Assistant Auditor Resigns Position

H. V. Thomas who for several months past has been assistant city auditor and who several days ago was taken ill has tendered his resignation to Auditor J. P. Moss effective at once. The resignation has been regretfully accepted by Mr. Moss who was familiar with the circumstances compelling this step. Mr. Thomas has been ordered by his physicians to abandon active work in this climate and it is understood, he proposes to leave shortly for the west where the milder atmosphere it is hoped will restore him to full health and strength.

Mr. Thomas was for some years assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and resigned that post to accept that of assistant auditor which he had proved himself to be energetic and efficient. He is leaving with the highest endorsement of his work for the city and to the regret of his many friends.

Farmer's Warehouse Leased to "Co-ops"

Ed. Walton Confirms Deal, Giving Association Two Delivery Plants in Danville—Looking for Another.

The Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association has closed a contract with the Danville Warehouse Corporation for the leasing of Farmer's warehouse on Union street. This is the standard five year contract the terms being identical with those under which Producers warehouse was leased and several of other warehouses in the tobacco belts where the organization is operative.

Ed. Walton confirmed the deal this morning and said that the papers had been signed. This is one of the two warehouses to be offered the new organization for some time. He said that this would interfere with the reported plans of the Association to build on property said to have been bought on Loyal street, Mr. Walton said that the securing of Farmer's warehouse would have no bearing on that proposition. He said the Association still hopes to secure one more warehouse in Danville and that it would far prefer this to building a delivery warehouse of its own owing to the fact that every new warehouse built depreciates the value of the others already standing.

Mr. Walton who has been down in Eastern Carolina confirms reports received here earlier in the week the effect that excessive rains have done damage. This, he states, is obvious in following a protracted illness. He was a resident of News Ferry, in Halifax county, his body being sent yesterday evening to South Boston.

(By The Associated Press.)

Death Claims W. Rockefeller, Oil Magnate

When court reconvened at 2:30 P. M. the instructions were given to the jury, all of the evidence being heard at the morning session. Granted that one hour and a half is allotted each side for final arguments the case should be in the hands of the jury by about 6 o'clock.

Brother of Modern Croesus Expires at Tarrytown After Week's Illness of Pneumonia—Most of the Family There.

(By The Associated Press.)
TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 24.—William Rockefeller, oil magnate and brother of John D. Rockefeller, died here shortly before seven o'clock today from pneumonia. He had been ill since Sunday but word of his condition was not made public. Practically the entire Rockefeller family was assembled at his bedside when the end came.

William Rockefeller had been in ill health for many years. The state of his health, in fact, and his whereabouts, became a matter of intense public curiosity. In 1913-14 when the Congressional committee investigating the "money trust" desired him as a witness, he could not be found. For months the sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives led a search which was fruitless. The financier's Fifth Avenue house in New York was besieged by subpoena servers, detectives, reporters and an idle throng for days; his residence at Tarrytown, N. Y., the Standard Oil offices on Broadway and his clubs, were watched without avail.

When attorneys representing him finally capitulated by accepting the subpoena for him, it was disclosed that he was in his Southern cottage on Jekyll Island, near Brunswick, Ga., but his physicians emphatically maintained that to ask Mr. Rockefeller to answer questions on a witness stand was to invite his death. He was subject to such spasms of coughing, that speech above a whisper was likely to strangle him.

The subpoena servers, still determined to get his testimony concerning an alleged manipulation of the copper market with H. H. Rogers several years previously, arranged a special sailing for the Standard Oil company boat, Jekyll Island, but had proceeded with less than a dozen questions when the witness was seized with laryngeal spasms and palsy. The committee was unable to continue without fear of causing his death.

It was then that his physicians admitted that he was suffering from a cancer of the throat.

The subpoena servers' search for Mr. Rockefeller, which, it was estimated, cost the government many thousands of dollars, was the most conspicuous feature in newspaper history of his latter life. Although the active head of the Standard Oil Company of New York from its establishment in 1865 to the present, Mr. Rockefeller began his mercantile career in the produce commission business, as did his brother, and joined the latter soon after he became interested in oil, about 1862. The establishment, soon after, of a branch office in New York, led to the removal of William Rockefeller to that city to take charge of it. From that time until his retirement in 1911 he was the active head of the New York Company.

In almost the last years of his life, Mr. Rockefeller suffered from his brother. He was a club man; his brother belonged to none. He was interested but slightly in philanthropic work of any kind or religious activity. He was the brother of his brother's brother, as did his brother, and joined the latter soon after he became interested in oil, about 1862. The establishment, soon after, of a branch office in New York, led to the removal of William Rockefeller to that city to take charge of it. John Lee in his cross-examination sought to reveal the measure of "damages" alleged to have been sustained which furnish the motive of the suit. The girl said that since the purported occurrence in the factory she found that she was shunned by other children and that since the story became public property she was avoided by them.

Malcolm Harris in his cross examination brought out the fact that the girl was crying when she left the factory and during the time she fulfilled her duties in the factory she was crying when she was away from the factory. Mrs. R. M. Gee testified to the condition of her daughter upon return home, Pryor Ragland was also a witness and Patagonian W. T. Kessler, who is officially connected with the case.

One of the two new witnesses put on by the defense was James Dillard by whose evidence it is sought to contradict the evidence of Lora Gee. Dillard testified that somewhere between 4 and 5 o'clock he saw S. Davis and Lora Gee standing in front of Cobb and Crews' wholesale store on Paxton street in earnest conversation. The girl, he said was not crying, adding that he passed quite close to the girl and saw her face in other trials is said to have been because he did not think that his testimony was really relevant to the case. The time of the commission of the alleged assault has been fixed between 4:30 and 5 p. m. Dillard says he saw the girl with Mr. Davis between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Mr. Noell was on the stand for fully an hour this morning and reiterated what he always said, that there was no truth in the accusations brought against him, that he had not invited Lora Gee into his factory and that he had never laid his hands upon her. The girl, he testified as previously came in of her own accord and appeared to be interested in the plant through which he took her. Mr. Noell, contradicted the evidence of Sargant Edwards and W. T. Kessler on the point of the child's tears but was considered a good witness at his own behalf.

Much of the morning session was taken up with evidence which might be termed technical, that is to say certain physical aspects of the case, the charges of the child's tears but was considered a good witness at his own behalf.

Both Lora Gee and S. J. Davis, who reiterated his first story on the stand yesterday, were recalled as rebuttal witnesses late this morning. Both were asked the point blank question if they had been engaged in conversation on the afternoon of the factory occurrence between 4 and 5 o'clock in front of Cobb and Crews' place and in front of Paxton street as alleged by Jim Dillard. Both replied by saying they had not been in conversation there.

"Y" DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the directors' room on Thursday afternoon, President W. T. Gravey presiding. In spite of the fact that several members of the board were out of town, a good number was present. The reports of the various committees indicated that the work of the association had been pushed during the past month with fair success. Especially was this true in the physical department, the report having been made by Chairman Frank Talbot. Number of baths taken during the month of May totaled 2,568, and the attendance in the gymnasium was 1,694. All classes in the boys' division are making a splendid record of attendance. Another feature of the past month was the annual grammar school athletic meet which was supervised by the committee, with a total of 1,164 students participating; this total having been divided between the different schools as follows: Robert E. Lee, 320; Stonewall Jackson, 317; Rison Park, 307; and in the finals from the three schools, 180 pupils participated. Still another feature was the baseball games under the auspices of the Sunday School Athletic League. Ten Sunday schools of the city have entered teams. This league is under the immediate direction of the following committee: Dr. P. W. Miles, Charles Bagland and Guy Dudley, and receives the close supervision of the physical director, George N. Savage. The following men have consented to act as umpires for the various games: Jesse W. Benton, W. W. Boussieu, Rev. J. C. Holland, G. P. Geoghegan, Jr., and Robert B. Davis. All games will be played on the Stonewall Jackson baseball diamond, which has been kindly loaned the league by P. R. Hatcher. The games for the present month are as follows: June 25th, First Baptist vs. Methodist Memorial; June 26th, Lee Street Baptist vs. Christian; June 27th, Lee Street Baptist vs. Christian; June 28th, Methodist Memorial vs. Epiphany. All games commence promptly at 8 o'clock. Friends of the Sunday schools participating are invited to be present at these games. No admission will be charged.

Carr and Lowry Defend Lincoln

RICHMOND, Va., June 23.—Abraham Lincoln was no more the instigator of the war between the states than Jefferson Davis was responsible for the action of the Southern people, according to a statement issued tonight over the signatures of General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and General C. B. Howry, of Washington, commander of the army of northern Virginia, ranking department of the Veterans organization.

Denial that they had voted for the resolutions concerning Lincoln "passed in some confusion" about the time of adjournment of the veterans on Wednesday came from the ranking officers. General Carr and Howry disclaimed any ill-feeling should arise because there is "no necessity for any temper of ill-will or animosity to the memory of a president who felt that it was his duty to enforce the laws of the United States as he understood them." In this statement they declared that they felt that they were "expressing the sentiments of too many prominent men now residing in Richmond and in the South, yet remaining here, to leave any doubt as to how our people generally feel about the matter."

The resolutions for which Generals Carr and Howry disclaim any responsibility was adopted Wednesday. It was embodied in a report of the "Rutherford committee" which has been the elimination of biased history text books from Southern schools. The report commended a pamphlet written by Colonel Huger W. Jackson, of Curryville, Ga., and published by Miss Mildred Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. The pamphlet, entitled "The Truth of the War Conspiracy of 1861," the report declares "presents the official evidence gathered principally from the United States government archives, which proves that the Confederate war was a just and personally conceived and its inauguration made by Abraham Lincoln and that he was personally responsible for forcing the war upon the South."

The report continued by stating that "the sentiment has been so aroused that perverted Yankee histories will no longer be used to instruct our children that the young will now be taught that the South was right, yes, eternally and everlastingly right in fighting for those principles upon which our glorious country was founded."

Generals Carr and Howry declare the report was adopted in some confusion and that the part which has aroused such a storm of protest was "in a mass of verbiage" which seemed to hold President Lincoln responsible for the war between the states.

Over the signatures of Generals Carr and Howry the statement follows: "General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., commander of the United Confederate Veterans, and Lieutenant General Charles B. Howry, of Washington, D. C., commanding the department of the army of northern Virginia, stated today that neither one of them voted for certain resolutions passed in some confusion about the time of adjournment of the veterans on Wednesday in a mass of verbiage which seemed to hold President Lincoln responsible for the civil war; that Abraham Lincoln had no more responsibility in bringing on the war than Jefferson Davis had for the sentiment of Southern people in resisting coercion."

VETERANS HAVE LEFT RICHMOND; ON WAY HOME

RICHMOND, Va., June 23.—The crowd that witnessed the great Confederate parade of yesterday, the thousands of soldiers and the horde of sponsors, maids of honor, matrons and those who came for the social features of the reunion, have disappeared. Last night they commenced to untrain, and they kept it up all night and all of today. There are no veterans and others connected with the reunion here today that they are actually attracting attention as they move along the streets. Tonight the very last of the visitors will have departed.

As the veterans were leaving late last night and early this morning they said, as they gazed on the city, "Good-bye Richmond, but we will come back." Many of the old men went away with a long list of those here this week will have passed away. The decorations placed for the veterans have been taken down.

IN LOCAL MASONIC CIRCLES

St. John the Baptist night in Masonry was duly commemorated with a stated communication by Roman Eagle lodge, No. 122, last night. With no special program of a festive character, there was nevertheless a large number of representative attendance of noteworthy members of the craft and a series of speeches on themes of interest to Masons of this and other local lodges and all branches of Masonry. It was largely in the nature of a love feast, particularly in the conclusion.

While no definite date can yet be given at which the temple now under construction will be completed, it is recognized by all that steady progress is being made, and already the several Masonic bodies are planning for the selection of furniture for the various meeting rooms.

The Masonic Building corporation, a holding company which was formed by the lodge or by members of this lodge, has not yet made known the precise amount of the big building, but it is sparing no efforts to direct the use of the building that the rent therefrom will pay the best available return on the investment and thereby the sooner enabled the lodge itself to reduce the outstanding preferred stock and in the meanwhile to pay the cumulative dividends thereon.

As a result of last night's meeting and an exposition of the status of the construction and rental plans the membership were brought into closer accord and larger understanding than before.

Morotock lodge, No. 210, A. F. and A. M., celebrated St. John's night Thursday by work, and Ramah lodge, No. 70, observed the anniversary in the same way last night.

DANVILLE BANKERS ELECT OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Danville chapter, American Institute of Banking, held on June 20th, the following officers were elected: President, J. Nelson Benton; secretary, B. C. Haraway; vice-president, Robert B. Davis; treasurer, W. S. Rendleman.

The Danville chapter, with an enrollment of 46 members, has had a most successful year, with weekly classes in the study of elementary banking, commercial law and political economy.

A new departure this year has been in giving lectures by members of the chapter to the pupils of the public schools each month on the following subjects:

- Bank Deposits and Checks.
- Bank Loans and Discounts.
- Gifts and Letters of Credit.
- Trust and Trust Corporations.
- Bankruptcy.
- Work and Health.
- Money and Other Commodities.
- What Bank Statements Mean.
- Federal Reserve System.

These lectures are given throughout the United States by chapter members to the schools and colleges and is proving of immense benefit to the students, in that a man from the bank is talking to them hoping to drill into the minds of the hearers the idea of thrift and the principles of the finance of our country and incidentally explaining the inner workings of the banking profession.

Charles E. Harison, president last year, will go as a delegate to the national convention of the institute, which will be held at Portland, Ore., on July 17th to 20th.

The present enrollment of the institute throughout the United States is over fifty thousand.

Whom Would You Marry?

"... life was spinning that night like some enormous 'put-and-take' top. On each face of it was some destiny marked for Molly, imminent, irrevocable, for better or for worse."

Ward Is Likely to Summer In Cell

Weeks To Bare Jury Minutes Rather Than Go to Trial Unprepared.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Unless Walter S. Ward's lawyers succeed in having the indictment for the murder of Clarence Peters quashed, Ward will remain in the White Plains jail all summer and be brought to trial in October. That was determined by the District Attorney, James M. Morschauer, yesterday after the plea for an extension of the term of the supreme court to enable a trial next month and permission to examine the minutes of the grand jury.

Justice Morschauer gave District Attorney Weeks the alternative of surrendering the minutes or going to trial July 17 and until Monday to decide on one or the other. Subsequently Mr. Weeks gave out this statement:

"The case will not go to trial on July 17. The District Attorney has protested against furnishing the minutes to the defendant because it would reveal evidence gathered in the investigation which will greatly hamper the prosecution. He adheres to his position that he has not the case in proper shape to present to a petty jury and will not move the case for trial until such time as the case is ready for prosecution."

Even if the indictment, upon examination of the minutes, should be quashed for lack of evidence there would be the chance of a superseding indictment.

With the prospect of her husband remaining in jail indefinitely, Mrs. Ward paid her first visit to him behind the bars Wednesday evening. She spent some time with him in an endeavor to comfort him and cheer him up. It was the first concession granted to Ward since he was jailed. He has his meals taken to him from a hotel restaurant as any prisoner is permitted who is willing to buy them.

WOMEN IN QUEST OF YOUTH APPLY FOR GLAND OPERATION

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."

—Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women, and whether you work or not Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the first sign of trouble. Good health is necessary and this splendid medicine will help you to keep it.

Prussian Police Find Hidden Arms

BERLIN, June 23.—Another important discovery of hidden arms this time made by Prussian police in the neighborhood of Jüterbog is unfortunately likely to strengthen the outcry abroad, notably France, against official Germany's good faith in the matter of disarmament. The police unearthed a vast stock of rifles, revolvers, hand grenades and other munitions and numerous machine guns. They proceeded to arrest promptly a suspected ex-officer. The allied military control commission itself with the affair. Are such stocks of hidden arms intended for a movement against the Allies or against the present German democratic government? Such is the question now being asked here.

The Socialist newspaper, "Freiheit," which continues this morning its detailed revelations regarding an alleged monarchist plot insists that the reactionaries are concealing arms not to challenge the entente but to overturn the republic. It declares that the monarchists' activities in Bavaria and Saxony are now so far perfected that "in the near future an effort will be made to set up a monarchy in Germany. The Freiheit, which incidentally accuses France of favoring the movement in the hope that it might lead to the disruption of Germany, says that throughout Bavaria, Saxony, East Prussia and Westphalia huge stocks of arms have been accumulated. There is reason to believe, however, the information above mentioned is of an alarmist character. Monarchist propaganda is certainly very active throughout Germany, but there seems to be no likelihood of an imminent anti-republic coup being attempted.

Will Argue Motion For a New Trial

The motion made by counsel for W. H. Blankenship to set aside the verdict rendered yesterday when a jury awarded Mrs. Giles Walker $10,000 damages will be argued one day next week. Judge E. J. Harvey, who represented the plaintiff, when asked today if it were not unique for a jury to stipulate the payment of $10,000 to Mrs. Walker and $5,000 to her child, said that there is a statute which provides for this and that in cases of wrongful death the jury has the right to determine this point. The money under the act is free of all claims for prior indebtedness of the defendant and the law is very clear on that point. It is reported that each member of the jury was for the full damages and debated only the right to stipulate a division.

—Mrs. Joie Holcombe, leaves next week to a visit to relatives in Oklahoma.

FOR LOTS WITH REAR VIEWS

(Copied from Curtis Companies, Inc., Clinton, Ia.)

In considering the estimate of $6280 given by the Curtis Service Bureau of Clinton, Ia., for the cost of this house it must be remembered that local conditions would cause some variance, one way or the other, from this figure.

When the selection of a lot is a case of "Hobson's choice," the practical thing to do is to choose a house plan that is suited to the lot you have. If your lot faces north, you can choose a plan where the real living porch is at the sides instead of in front. If the lot is narrow, you can have the length of your main rooms along the length of your lot; if you have a corner lot, you can choose a house that is as good-looking from the side as the front. Any condition may be met, and gracefully.

For instance the house here illustrated is especially designed to take advantage of a moderate sized lot in which the view is toward the rear. If the view is toward one side, even a narrower lot may be used, and an equally handsome front becomes a side to the street. Reversing the plan increases the number of conditions covered by this plan.

The exterior development is thoroughly English. Some of the old cottages of England have just such dormers, half-timbers and overhanging second story as this. The hooded formal entrance and the casements are characteristic English touches. The wood panels applied on the bay are unusual and interesting.

One gets the impression of a large house. In reality its overall measurements are 29 feet wide by 23 feet 6 inches deep, and there are five rooms, all of generous size.

Vestibule and stair hall are dispensed with, the space being added to the living room. The stair occurs

House-To-House Radio Predicted By Marconi

ATLANTIC CITY, June 23.—Guglielmo Marconi today predicted house-to-house radio communication, without any one being able to tap the ether.

"I would suggest experimentation by amateurs," he said, "in endeavoring to shorten the wave length. Today the average length used by the amateur is 200 feet. The frequency of invention is 1.5 million cycles per second. It is possible to shorten this down to one meter. With a wave length of that sort it would enable not only amateurs, but the world, to talk from house to house within a restricted area without others listening."

307 GALLONS OF WINE DUMPED IN SEWER AT OWNERS' REQUEST

NEW YORK, June 23.—Five old coppers stood sully in the doorway of a warehouse at No. 210 Hudson street yesterday watched prohibition agents destroy 397 gallons of wine and bitters.

Seized goods? Not at all! The owner asked that they be destroyed. The million! What? Well, the truth is this:

B. B. Davis & Co., for years had a wholesale liquor business at the warehouse in Hudson street. Prohibition came and they continued to function under government permits, abiding by the regulation laid down by the treasury department.

Then came something—not explained—and the company decided to go out of business. They want to rent their warehouse in Hudson street. They had the 307 gallons of wine and bitters on hand. They decided it would take too long to sell them off.

Then the unbelievable! Walter M.

Wurmser, manager of the company, telephoned to John S. Parsons, chief prohibition enforcement officer for New York.

Please come down and destroy our wine! pleaded Mr. Wurmser.

Mr. Parsons has not quite recovered from the shock. But yesterday afternoon he went to the warehouse, and with Mr. Wurmser and two or three men to help, he threw against a brick wall bottle after bottle of the wet goods. Then from an upper floor were brought eleven demijohns and their contents emptied into the sewer.

Meanwhile the five old coppers stood in the doorway, looking on. In days past they probably had been "barred throats." Today they are just "parched throats." As bottle after bottle smashed against the wall five great clouds of dust and steam and each gurgling from the emptying demijohns brought a tear to each of the ten eyes.

These compartments were burned a few feet underground. Four of these were discovered but only one yielding anything in the shape of Scotch and rye. The other had been recently emptied, the officers declare.

The "loaded" cache contained 18,000 worth of whiskeys of various brands. It was destroyed.

It was a fine automobile which was captured. There may be warrants sworn out today. The officers declare this to have been the most elaborate underground liquor system yet captured in this vicinity.

The farms have a waterfront with a navigable stream.

Charged With Having Set Fire To Building

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 24.—F. E. Thomas, who conducted a boarding house at 1000 Court street, which caught fire the morning of June 11th and resulted in $2,500 damage, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of having set fire to the building. The personal property in the house at the time of the fire was valued at $50.

There is a large kitchen in the house, where there is plenty of wall space for the subboards, sink, range, refrigerator and work table. Cabinets with folding breakfast table or ironing-board are conveniences appreciated by the woman of the house who usually finds that most "home-making" is done in the kitchen. Ample ventilation and light from two sides reach this workshop. The indoors basement entry is handy to both kitchen and grade entrance.

There is a large bedroom and a bathroom large enough to dress in on snappy winter mornings make up the second story layout. Small need, indeed, for a sleeping porch with such airy rooms. The one above the living room has bays on two sides, seven casements. Casements, as everyone knows, permit the full use of the window opening. With properly chosen hardware, they are just as weather-tight as double-hung windows, and are very much more likely to produce a beautiful exterior. The appropriateness for English architecture is well-known.

Every need of the ordinary family is taken care of in this carefully planned home, and in addition many luxuries are incorporated in the house of real character and individuality.

RICHMOND, Va., June 23.—The Richmond police received a telegram today from M. T. Leatherman, of Lileointon, N. C., inquiring if Henry Daugherty, Confederate veteran of that community, ever reached here for the reunion this week.

The message stated that he was old and feeble and as no word had come from him it was feared that some mishap had befallen him. Search for him was being made tonight.

AGENTS UNCOVER "WET MINE" WITH $18,000 IN WHISKY

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 23.—Dry agents, operating near Savannah, uncovered a "wet" mine on the Rockingham farms, eighteen miles from Savannah yesterday. They discovered a series of receptacles under ground, each capable of holding about 4,000 quarts of liquor.

These compartments were burned a few feet underground. Four of these were discovered but only one yielding anything in the shape of Scotch and rye. The other had been recently emptied, the officers declare.

The "loaded" cache contained 18,000 worth of whiskeys of various brands. It was destroyed.

"Equal Rights" Move Spreads; Wisconsin Women Jubilant

MRS. FRANK PUTNAM

BY NEA SERVICE. Choice of domicile, residence and name. Jury service. Control of earnings. Acquiring, controlling, holding and conveying of property. Care and custody of children, whether legitimate or illegitimate. Control of earnings and services of children. Acting as administrators of estates. Seeking divorce. Filing law suits on their own behalf, not through their husbands. Immunities or penalties for sex offenses. In many states some or most of these rights are enjoyed by women; but not a few of them.

So long as woman continues to be held in a position of inferiority with regard to the control of her person and property, her citizenship is a travesty, not a fact.

Law Adopted in Wisconsin. The best course for women of Virginia to pursue in obtaining equal rights laws, is through blanket legislation, and not the tedious correction of a multiplicity of statutes.

Here is how the Wisconsin equal rights law reads: "Section 1. Women shall have the same rights and privileges under the law as men in the exercise of suffrage, freedom of contract, choice of residence for voting purpose, jury service, holding office, holding and conveying property, care and custody of children and in all other respects."

The various courts, executive and administrative officers shall construe the statutes where the masculine gender is used to include the feminine gender unless such construction will deny to females the special protection and privileges which they now enjoy for the general welfare.

"The courts, executive and administrative officers shall make all necessary rules and provisions to carry out the intent and purposes of this statute."

"Section 2. Any woman drawn to serve as a juror, upon her request to the presiding judge or magistrate before the commencement of the trial or hearing, shall be excused from the panel or venire."

The National Woman's party is directing several state campaigns from its Washington headquarters and needs and is ready to utilize effectively all the aid women everywhere can give.

Under the nineteenth amendment the women of America are only half free. Half vassals.

This campaign to complete the granting of equal rights for women cannot end until women are wholly free.

4,000 ARE DEAD IN KIANGSI MUTINY

SHANGHAI, June 24.—(By The Associated Press.) Although there is no report of confirmed accuracy on the casualties in the Kiangsi mutiny, a probably fairly accurate estimate places the dead at four thousand in Kiangsi, Taiho, Wanan and Lung-chuan. The greater portions of these cities were destroyed. It is believed no foreigners were slain or taken captive.

Much foreign property, principally belonging to Christian missions has been destroyed. Great anxiety is felt regarding the fate of the Catholic Jesuit mission under Father De Jenlis at Taiho, which Thursday was reported under siege by the mutineers with six hundred Christian converts refugees within its compound. There has been no further news from the mission.

DENIES RESPONSIBILITY

DUBLIN, June 24.—(By The Associated Press.) The shooting of Sir Henry Wilson was not done at Republican instance or of the Irish Republican army; if it were the Irish Republican army would acknowledge the fact, says a statement issued by the publicity department of the disaffected army at the Four Courts headquarters early this (Saturday) morning.

ORGANS OF MAN TO BE ANALYZED

ATLANTA, Ga., June 23.—Vital organs of the late Charles W. Wilbanks, first husband of the present wife, Dr. J. O. Suggs, who is being held in the Washington, Georgia, jail in connection with the deaths of Wilbanks and the physician's first wife, were brought to Atlanta late today for chemical analysis. Wilbanks' body was exhumed near Commerce, Ga., earlier in the day.

The body of the first Mrs. Suggs was exhumed Tuesday in Tallapoosa county and the viscera is now being analyzed by the State chemist, to determine if there are any traces of poison. It has been charged that Dr. Suggs administered poison to Wilbanks in order to produce death so that the doctor could marry Mrs. Wilbanks.

Funeral Of Field Marshal Wilson To Be Held Monday

LONDON, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—The funeral of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson will be held next Monday in St. Paul's cathedral, the empire's military pantheon. The body will be interred in the north transept, beside the graves of Field Marshal Lord Roberts and Field Marshal Lord Kitchener. Full military honors will be accorded the dead soldier.

Except for the portion of the cathedral reserved for relatives of the field marshal, members of Parliament and other prominent persons, the whole of the vast edifice will be thrown open without tickets to the general public. The long route from the cathedral square, the home of Field Marshal Wilson to St. Paul's, others of the public will have opportunity to pay their last respects.

The two men arrested as assassins of Field Marshal Wilson were arraigned on a charge of murder today and formally remanded for a week in order to enable further investigation. Little has been added to the identity of the assassin, except that he proved to be a former soldier, one of whom was employed as a doorkeeper in a government office.

Thus far the responsible republicans in Ireland who have spoken regarding the assassination, including Eamon de Valera, have disavowed any knowledge of the crime or its perpetrators. Mr. De Valera tonight, however, denied the policy of which he denounced the policy of the British government and that of Ulster as the cause for such outrages. The assassination of Field Marshal Wilson was the first of a series of outrages which have been committed in Ireland since the death of Field Marshal Lord Roberts.

SLOW PROGRESS ON TARIFF BILL STARTS CLOTURE

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Slow progress in the Senate of the tariff bill today resulted in a new cloture vote. The bill is now in the hands of the Senate, and the cloture vote was taken today. The bill is now in the hands of the Senate, and the cloture vote was taken today.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader, said he believed the cloture move would be made. If this effort to get an early vote on the bill should fail, Senator Lodge added, the Republican leadership was considering seriously the plan to lay aside the tariff bill and make a fight for the new rule to invoke cloture by majority vote and fight it out.

Committee amendments in only two paragraphs of the bill were disposed of today and the votes on these were the first the Senate had had since the bill was introduced. The bill was introduced Tuesday following passage of the naval appropriation bill. Rates approved were on chains and spades, scythes, etc. The rates on chain ranged from 18 cent a pound to 25 cent a pound. The bill represented a material reduction from the duties originally proposed by the committee majority. A amendment offered by Senator Simmons of New York, calling for even greater reductions were rejected by large majorities. The duty on spades, etc., approved was 35 per cent. ad valorem, as originally recommended.

Labor Turns Down Soviet At Convention

CINCINNATI, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Led by Samuel Gompers, foes of the Russian soviet government in the American Federation of Labor seemed certain tonight of defeating the federation at its convention here on record against the recognition of the soviet government. The soviet government was defeated by a large majority.

Aside from the Russian question the convention went on record against the federation affiliating with the International Federation of Trade Unions, and re-elected the federation's present executive council of eleven officers, headed by Mr. Gompers as president. It was Mr. Gompers' first election, and he was unopposed.

The only stand, made by the radical element at the convention, was with the presentation of the Russian question, and though it was not a new question before the federation it was regarded as one of the main issues before the labor movement. Mr. Gompers and other foes of the soviet centered their opposition on the ground that the soviet is a dictatorship and not a representative government of the Russian people, and that it aimed at the destruction of the American Federation of Labor as a step towards destroying the government of the United States.

WILL PROBE THE CAUSE OF RAPID RISE OF STOCK

NEW YORK, June 23.—The committee on business conduct of the New York stock exchange today began its investigation into the recent extraordinary movement of the stock market. The committee will undertake to analyze the causes or reasons back of the movement.

Adoption of "corrective measures" by the stock exchange relegated in today's market. Opening of the day in oil. The two cases of Pan American, known as "A" and "B" shares, made extreme gains of 6 and 7 points, respectively, and the stock of the company rose 10 points.

Pan American Petroleum, which exercises control over Mexican Petroleum through its vast stockholding in that company, was the leader of the day in oil. The two cases of Pan American, known as "A" and "B" shares, made extreme gains of 6 and 7 points, respectively, and the stock of the company rose 10 points.

Reports were current in Wall Street that at least one prominent "street" interest in Mexican Petroleum had been permitted to cover at a price of $225 a share. It was said to have cost this man alone more than $1,000,000 to cover his obligations.

JAPAN DECIDES TO QUIT SIBERIA

TOKYO, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Japanese cabinet today decided that Japan shall evacuate Siberia, according to reports carried by the Japanese news agency. The cabinet decision to withdraw from Siberia is declared to constitute a re-affirmation of Japan's policy in that country. The date of evacuation will not be fixed until after the diplomatic advisory council tomorrow.

Herrin's Slain Go Unmourned

HERRIN, Ill., June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Herrin's unhonored dead lay in state tonight in the vacant store building that has been pressed into service as a morgue, since yesterday's battle. There, they lie an unending line of men and women, young and old, barefooted boys and little girls bright in their summer clothes.

They lifted muslin cloths, and peered at the pale faces, and at the wounds left by pistol bullets, rifle balls and buckshot. They lingered, then, reluctantly pressed on by some adjoining horror eager to miss nothing. Never a word of pity from the crowd. These were the enemy slain in a labor war. These were the men who came to take away their jobs. Outsiders, enemies. "Well, it served them right." That was the attitude of the town as expressed by its men and women and its children.

The dead of a half dozen nationalities, with sloping foreheads of the Slav, high profiles of the native born, the long mustaches of eastern Europe, lay at peace for all the crowds, the laughter and the sullen looks. Bricks beneath their heads for pillows, pick boxes for their heads, they lay waiting for the call of friends and relatives who loved them once and have lost touch with them in the vicissitudes of transient labor. Most of them, it is safe to say, will be forgotten in the picture shows, their meager courses run, their stories finished. They came because they wanted a living and because other men wanted to make money.

They died hunted across the fields, stoned, shot at, tied and dragged down dusty country roads because they would not take away their living. The trees are green in Herrin, and the birds are singing and the crops ripening the mid-summer sun. From the morgue the crowds drift to the billboards in front of the picture shows, to see what the posters promise, to the drug store for soft drinks, then home for supper. Only the outside shows surprise and horror. People here say:

"This is our business. Sorry, but it's done. Let us alone. We will handle this all right. We're good people and we'll look out for anybody if you mind your own business. We'll attend to ours."

Attempts to sift through the maze of rumors, reports, contradictions and facts of the night of the battle, an uncolored account of the events leading up to it, tonight after everything was quiet, brought two authentic reviews of the affair, one from a union official and another from a state military official.

Hugh Willis, district board member of the miners' union, in the first statement from union officials concerning the massacre, told newspaper reporters the blame lay squarely on the coal operators, who imported strike breakers.

He declared that the first shots were fired by the strike breakers, and that these shots were without provocation, and that one of the chief causes of the disaster was the imported workers who were employed by the mine.

That Colonel Hunter on half a dozen occasions asked Sheriff Thaxton and other local county officials if they wanted troops sent here, but was told each time that the local authorities could handle the matter.

That he urged the mine officials to close it down to avert a disaster, but the request was refused.

That an indignation meeting of six hundred miners was held just outside of Herrin the day before the fighting started.

That he persuaded the besieged workers to run up a white flag and obtain consent from miner officials for a truce, but that this truce was broken, and that the local authorities could handle the matter.

Both reports termed the armed guards at the mine as "gunmen." Investigations were conducted to day by several state representatives from Springfield and they commenced their inquiry by swearing in the jury. It then adjourned until Sunday. State's Attorney Duty said he probably would recommend a grand jury investigation but that his would depend primarily upon what the inquiry uncovered. All officials were of the opinion that no evidence would be obtainable. The casualty list was still indefinite tonight.

Twenty-two bodies were in morgues. Several others were reported still in the woods or in ponds. The number of deaths was forty but had no confirmation. Nineteen were known to be wounded.

FRELINGHUYSEN OFFERS A SCIENTIFIC TARIFF PLAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—Machinery for the construction of what was described as a scientific tariff, based on the differences between conversion costs in this country and abroad would be set up under an amendment to the pending tariff bill proposed today by Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican New Jersey, who as a member of the Finance committee, helped draft the present measure.

Under the terms of the amendment the tariff commission would be enlarged to ten members and would be required to recommend to Congress not later than December 1, 1933, and each six months thereafter, rates of duty necessary to equalize the differences in conversion costs as disclosed by investigations which it would make.

The members of the committee would be appointed by the President, would hold office for life, and would receive salaries of $12,000 each, the same as cabinet officers. Not more than five of them could be of the same political party and none of them could engage actively in any private business.

In a prepared address explaining the amendment, Senator Frelinghuysen declared the present tariff making system was both "illegal and unscientific." Describing that system as in complication of the statements of manufacturers, importers, merchants and farmers and of inconclusive data collected by Government agencies inadequately equipped, the Senator said the public mind was thoroughly awake to "the abuses of this system and to the necessity for reform."
